PUBLISHED SOURCES
FOR IRISH GARDEN HISTORY
RESEARCH

The following references are nearly all published sources incidentally picked-up during the course of research into The History of Demesnes and Gardening by Terence Reeves-Smyth. Being very much part of a working process, which is still in progress, these do not represent a systematically compiled list of sources. Terence Reeves-Smyth has agreed to make available updates of this sources list as he continues with his work and will also in due time make available his list of unpublished sources. Meanwhile, it is hoped that these various references may prove useful to others involved in garden history research.
